

Publications – Jonathan Coates

(Sole author unless otherwise stated.)

“Medical Disciplinary Proceedings: A comparison with New Zealand” Dispatches, Vol 10(1), May 2000, King’s College, London

“Transmission of infectious diseases” [2000] NZLJ 213

“Brickbats and bouquets” (A comparison between the New Zealand and UK medical disciplinary processes) [2000] NZLJ 304

“When do parents have the right to refuse medical treatment on behalf of their children?” NZ Med J 2000; 113: 297

“What standards of conduct are practitioners required to meet in order to avoid criticism?” NZ Med J 2000; 113: 342

“The impact of privacy laws on epidemiological research” NZ Med J 2000; 113: 449

“Refusing emergency life-sustaining treatment” NZ Med J 2000; 114: 18

Jonathan Coates & Jack Hill “Obtaining consent for epidural analgesia for women in labour” NZ Med J 2000; 114: 72

“Responsibilities of doctors in management and governance” NZ Med J 2000; 114: 95

“Mandatory reporting of incompetence” NZ Med J 2000; 114: 193

“Recommending particular treatment options: the vitamin K experience” NZ Med J 2000; 114: 215

“Reaching an acceptable standard of practice in an environment of limited resources” NZ Med J 2000; 114: 270

“‘Report cards’: the public’s access to indicators of clinical performance” NZ Med J 2000; 114: 342

“The Cull report: requiring health providers to report complaints” NZ Med J 2000; 114: 363

“The obligation to follow-up patients” NZ Med J 2000; 114: 412

“The duty to report patients who are unfit to drive” NZ Med J 2000; 114: 453

“No-fault compensation for medical errors: who wins?” NZ Med J 2000; 114: 527

Jonathan Coates & Louise McKenzie “Attributing medical errors to ‘the system’: the new Accident Compensation legislation” NZ Med J 2000; 115: 142

“Ending the patient relationship” NZ Med J 2000; 115: 301

“The supervision of junior doctors” NZ Med J 2000; 115: 170

“Enduring powers of attorney” NZ Med J 2000; 115: 251

“Removal of the mandatory reporting provisions: Only a pyrrhic victory?” NZ Med J 2002, 115, 1162

“Bottrill: further observations” [2003] NZLJ 6

“Regulation and innovation in health care” Internal Medicine Journal, Vol 45, Issue 10, p 989 (2015)

“The threat of litigation as a possible barrier to innovation” Internal Medicine Journal, Vol 46, Issue 3, p 253 (2016)